LOCATION

Whitehaven, with a resident population of approximately 25,000 with Workington approximately 8 miles north, is one of the two main population centres for West Cumbria. Whitehaven is the predominant town in the Copeland Borough Council area (now Cumberland Council with Carlisle and Allerdale) and is the nearest population centre to the Sellafield Nuclear Reprocessing Plant, the largest employment site in Cumbria, situated approximately 10 miles south. The town provides a good range of local amenities, plus the relatively recent office development, Albion Square. The subject property is situated a few hundred metres east of Whitehaven's pedestrianised retail core. Queen Street is a side road which links the thoroughfares of Duke Street and Lowther Street.

The property overlooks the town's St Nicholas Church Park. This is a tertiary trading area, with nearby operators including Casa a Roma, Bleasdale & Co. (Bendles LLP), Whitehaven Pharmacy, and a number of private independent operators for various commercial uses. The location of the building is shown on the plan overleaf.

DESCRIPTION

The property is a single-storey end-of-terrace building of traditional block construction with a rendered finish to the front elevation, under a flat roof. The exterior is well presented, with three floor-length arched windows on the front elevation. An archway to the right, situated between the subject building and Casa a Roma, provides the main access door into the shop. Internally, the building comprises an open-plan sales area with a storage room, kitchen and WC to the rear.
